PCT/US2014/046619

Since the grant of my patented invention US 8,910,998 B1, the highest valued asset in the world, usa has unleashed a new set of brain imaging devices to capture brain activity by surrounding me 24 by 365, which when combined with an ecosystem of information to be built, will threaten the future of Intellectual property rights of citizens from across the world countries. This will be a threat that must be contained, countered, banned, and suitable law enforcement framework to curb it must be implemented, in the interest of future operations of WIPO, International Bureau. I must to present this risk to Intellectual Property rights at an upcoming WIPO assembly session to the 193 country member delegates.

I attach a document, pdf file with this communication that I would request you to 'read in detail' at your earliest convenience, since WIPO, International Bureau, must take action and work with each of the 193 country member delegates to protect the future of Intellectual Property rights of citizens across the world. Do not hesitate to write to me with your questions or remarks.
